Demonstration of Developer Experience

Instructions: Please have the qualified participant and/or the qualified member of a participant's project development team complete the following with their information and demonstration of developer experience.

Developer Experience Defined

The participant and/or a member of the participant's project development team must have completed at least one other project of similar technology and capacity.

Qualified participant and/or member must have had direct involvement in management and/or development in engineering, construction, or interconnection on referenced project(s).

Roles such as finance, sales, legal or counsel do not qualify as direct participant involvement and therefore do not satisfy this developer experience requirement.

Qualified Developer Experience includes:

- Detailed experience
- Professional background
- Applicable duties and responsibilities
- Professional credentials/certifications
